

Henrietta's Hopeful Hints 5/6/20 No. 11

- Show solidarity through the Day of Welcome on June 12th
- Be prepared to talk about racism
- Stand up to racism with Sesame Street
- Learn about black change makers
- Explore racism, whiteness and equality

Tips on explaining race and racism to kids

- ◆ Educate yourself
- ◆ Talk about diversity & use diverse books
- ◆ Don't claim not to see colour
- ◆ Showcase diverse role models, rituals and history
- ◆ Highlight organisations & individuals who are creating positive change

From Dr Praya Agarwal and Freddie Harrel on Woman's Hour

Click here for a selection of resources to support this

These picture books are an accessible way to start to teach about racism, equality and privilege.

Thriving in education

@SEL_Norfolk_Sch

'The only wrong thing to say is to say nothing,' said the Duchess of Sussex addressing George Floyd's death. This edition aims to help us teach our children that black lives matter because "When the foundation is broken, so are we"

Friday 12th June is Norfolk School of Sanctuary's Day of Welcome Click here to find out how you can join in. It is great way to explore how why it is important to treat others as you would like to be treated, teach how this is not always the case and what we can do to ensure everyone is welcome in our school; a way to show solidarity.

Henrietta is looking forward to doing these two stay-at-home art project is suitable for children and young people of all ages. They were produced by Norfolk SoS in collaboration with Anglia Ruskin University. When she is finished she will share them here and with her friends.

For ages 4-8

For ages 8 plus

For ages 7-10. To learn more about the book click here

If you're curious how to get the conversation about racism started, here's what the experts have to say.

Coming Together: Standing Up to Racism

A Town Hall for Kids & Families

CNN SATURDAY MORNING 10 A ET
CNN.com/SesameStreet

(CNN)As anger and heartbreak have swept across America over the killing of yet another black man at the hands of police, CNN and "Sesame Street" are refocusing their second town hall to address racism.

The 60-minute special "Coming Together: Standing Up to Racism. A CNN/Sesame Street Town Hall for Kids and Families" will air on Saturday, June 6, at 10 a.m. ET; 2p.m. GMT

The show will talk to kids about racism, the recent nationwide protests, embracing diversity and being more empathetic and understanding.

The first CNN "Sesame Street" town hall in April addressed the coronavirus pandemic that has already seen many families sheltering at home, grappling with trying to explain the dangers of covid-19 to their children. View it in full here.

It will stream live on CNN.com's homepage and across mobile devices via CNN's apps, without requiring a cable log-in

The PATHS curriculum features 3 role model lessons about inspirational black icons

