Stars of the Week

3G

Bennie Donnelly and River Harper

For working very hard on their story of Arthur's journey to the land of the gods.

3P

Maverick Williams Anthony

Maverick has been working incredibly hard during Guided Reading lessons. He has contributed great ideas to our discussions and is developing his inference skills brilliantly. Well done, Maverick!

Tayron Harewood

He produced an excellent narrative, using descriptive adjectives and a variety of punctuation to make his writing more interesting and engaging. Keep up the brilliant work, Tayron!

4P

Tilly Brooker

For her effort during singing assembly this week. Tilly has also upped her game in English, writing an outstanding letter to Shen persuading him to save Sika from the Yetis. Keep it up, Tilly!

Alex Pearce

Alex produced lovely detailed sketches inspired by aboriginal and indigenous artist in Art this week. It's lovely to see his creative side! Well done, Alex!

4R

Willow Pentecost, Zayaan Ali and Jessie Vallecillo-Reeve

For their dedication when completing a science experiment about how sound travels over distance this week. They worked well together and really pushed themselves to get the most accurate results possible (which involved, but didn't require, kneeling on the floor and practically crawling across the field). Wonderful scientists in the making, well done!

5R

Hedley Taylor

For making an excellent King Richard III. It was rather dramatic when he died.

Myles Fox

For being helpful and contributing lots of brilliant ideas this week.

5S

Ethan Bone

For being a constant source of fascinating information. Ethan has really impressed me by putting his hand up more often to share his ideas, enriching our lessons with his knowledge and curiosity. A brilliant contributor to our class!

Ena Bean

For her outstanding suspense writing. Ena consistently pushes herself to use all the techniques we've explored in class and her careful choice of vocabulary and phrasing helps her create engaging, atmospheric pieces. A truly budding author!

Golden Book

Darius Hreapco & Tallulah Girling
